

SECURITY AND SOCIETY

Poland Study Abroad - Unique Perspectives on Security

An Innovative, Modern Program

The semester offering focuses on cybersecurity, information warfare, and the roles of new and social media. The summer session takes a broad but intensive approach looking at these security issues as well as at maintaining healthy ecological, legal, demographic, entrepreneurial, and civic environments. More info at SRAS.org/security.

Why Security Studies?

From government to the private sector, an understanding of security concerns, be it economic, political, or cyber, is a valuable asset. Degree programs in Security Studies are proliferating, particularly at the graduate level. Undergrad students can leverage study abroad in this field for grad school applications as well as employment.

WHY POLAND?

Poland is one of the EU's most vocal members on foreign policy and security issues. It offers rich history and an inviting international outlook. SRAS programs at Collegium Civitas, a top-rated non-public university that has established itself well within Warsaw's local civil society, focus on new media, security studies, democratization, and Jewish studies.

THE SCHOOL OF RUSSIAN AND ASIAN STUDIES is an organization committed to encouraging the study of any subject related to Russia, Central Asia, Central and Eastern Europe, and the Caucasus since 1996. In addition to a wide array of study abroad programs formulated for credit transfer to American institutions, SRAS develops free resources for language learning, language advocacy, and funding. Find out more at www.sras.org

SECURITY AND SOCIETY IN THE INFORMATION AGE

This semester offering examines current issues such as cybersecurity, information warfare, and how new and social media are changing the face of modern democracies. It also offers a look at a case-study of one of the worst security failures of modern history: the Holocaust.

SEMINARS:

- New Media and Society
- Cybersecurity & Information Strategies
- Jewish Studies

ELECTIVES:

- New Media and Democracy: Case Studies
- New Media in Socio-Political Context
- Theory of Information Strategy
- Cyberspace as a New Security Domain
- Terrorism & Other Threats to Int'l Security
- Holocaust and Genocide
- Polish Language
- Professional Internship
- Research Project
- And more...

FUNDING AVAILABLE!
SRAS.org/funding

APPROXIMATE DATES AND COSTS

Semester: $9,750*
Fall: Early Oct – Mid Jan
 (Apply by May 15 of same year)
Spring: Late Feb – Early June
 (Apply by Oct 31 of previous year)

Full Year: $18,500*
 Early Oct – Early June
 (Apply by May 15 of same year)

* For current information about this program, visit:

SRAS.ORG/Security

SECURITY AND SOCIETY SUMMER SCHOOL

The summer session takes a broad but intensive approach looking at traditional and contemporary security issues. These range from maintaining international partnerships to developing healthy ecological, demographic, entrepreneurial, legal, and civic environments. It will also look at the fascinating history of the Jews in Poland within the context of creating diverse, tolerant societies as well as exploring the extreme effects of intolerance.

COURSES AVAILABLE:

- Security Issues and Central Europe
- Introduction to Cybersecurity Policy
- The History and Culture of Central Europe
- Jewish Heritage
- Elites and Politics
- Crime and Punishment
 - Cities: Society, History, and Change
 - Professional Internship

APPROXIMATE DATES AND COSTS

Cost: Costs charged per course.
See site for details.

Dates: Specific dates vary by courses chosen. Ranges from late May to mid August. See site for details.

Apply by: April 1 of same year.

* For current information about this program, visit:

SRAS.ORG/Security